Description of the institution's communication strategy

(obligatoire si le montant théorique est supérieur à 25 000 $)

In addition to posting the Research Support Fund (RSF) information on the Brandon University website and reporting expenditures in the Annual Outcomes Report, Brandon University will continue to publicize the RSF in a variety of ways. An annual communication will be shared regarding the RSF program and awarded amount. Projects and initiatives that have received RSF support will be asked to acknowledge this support publicly, where appropriate. Documents and other communications developed through the Office of Research Services (ORS) will formally acknowledge any support received by the RSF. Through the Communications Office, Brandon University will use all of its tools to highlight initiatives supported by the RSF including social media, podcasts, print and digital media, and events. In January 2024, the ORS moved under the auspices of the new office (and position) of the Office of the Vice-President (Research & Graduate Studies). We are in the initial stages of gathering information in consideration of a new Knowledge Mobilization position to be hired under the Office of the Vice-President. The position is expected to take on the responsibility of all knowledge mobilization activities associated with the Office. We also intend to hire students from the institutional Co-Operative Education Program to take on one-off communications projects.
